

Become a Global Leader for Change Engage With PeaceGeeks to Make a Difference

PeaceGeeks: Canada's Leading Digital Peacebuilder

PeaceGeeks is a Vancouver-based non-profit that is pioneering the use of technology to engage Canadians in the empowerment of grassroots human rights organizations.

Technology is changing how non-profits engage in international development and PeaceGeeks is leading the way! We develop resources to meet the needs of a broad range of partners in making change a reality. We want to partner with you so we can help our partners to bridge the digital divide and make an even greater difference in their communities.

PeaceGeeks empowers changemakers

With our support, causes that once struggled to connect with international audiences are now able to build direct relationships with skilled volunteers who can assist them in developing their capacity for peacebuilding. By establishing these connections we enable Canadians to put into practice the values we all hold most dear, and continue our nation's legacy of peacebuilding through the 21st century.

Be the Difference!!

"That's not fair!"
That sense of right and wrong is something that we carry with us throughout our lives. It motivates us to reach out and give a hand to help others so that they can enjoy the same opportunities that we have.

Building peace with Tech Projects

Community leaders in developing and conflict-affected areas are best positioned to understand and respond to peace and human rights issues at home. With the right tools and training, these organizations can reduce discrimination, advance gender equality, strengthen democracy, and raise awareness of local issues to international leaders. Our Tech Capacities Projects connect these organizations to the tools and skills they need to strengthen their reach and effectiveness, engage their communities and make change a lived experience.

Proven Success

Over the past four years, we have partnered with 26 grassroots organizations in 16 countries across Africa, the Middle East, and Asia-Pacific. Using training and technology tools that respond to their challenges and needs, our partners have reported greater successes when engaging their communities and raising the visibility of their work with international organizations and policy makers. Many are so happy with our work that we continue to collaborate on new projects that are only possible because of their increased capacity.

PeaceGeeks + You: A shared Vision of the Future

PeaceGeeks can accomplish even more with the support of businesses like yours. By providing essential and regular funding, as well as opportunities for your employees to engage in our work, you can become global agents of change and play a vital role in advancing peace and human rights around the world. We look forward to working with your team to advance social change through corporate engagement and innovation.

Our Vision

We see a world where everyone can leverage technology to make peace and human rights a lived reality.

Our Mission

PeaceGeeks collaborates with grassroots changemakers to make them more effective and impactful in advancing peace and human rights.

Take the next step and support PeaceGeeks!

We think you're the perfect fit with PeaceGeeks and we'd like to make you a part of our growing community of international changemakers. Whether you're interested in getting involved in Tech Projects, sponsoring PeaceTalks, making a donation, engaging your employees through regular payment programs, or collaborating in an entirely new way, let's connect and discuss the possibilities.
